

ABOUT KELVIN ASHBY-KING

Kelvin Ashby-King is Principal Consultant of T2 Consulting based in Bengaluru, India where Kelvin has been resident for the last 12 year. Kelvin has 28 years' experience covering all facets of the Audio Visual and System Integration industry.

Kelvin started his career as a Theatrical Lighting Designer and Production Manager while at University in New Zealand and went on to work for Selecon New Zealand as Asian Market Manager. In 1990 Kelvin moved to Singapore and joined Inova Audio Visual Designs as Regional Sales Director and in 1992 moved to Bangkok to set up the Indochina System Integration Operations and Consultancy Services as Managing Director of Thai Inova. Kelvin also moved his lighting design practice, Lighting Design Associates to Bangkok the same year. In late 1999 Kelvin relocated to India to develop the Inova Consulting office originally set up in 1994. Inova Consulting was India's leading AV Consultancy and went on to become Techlogique Consulting Group with offices in Bengaluru and Dubai and Kelvin was Managing Director/Principal Consultant until Dec 2009. From Jan 2000 to March 2003 Kelvin was also CEO of Esco Audio Visual and was instrumental in establishing Esco as the leading System Integrator in India. Kelvin sold his interest in Esco to take up independent consultancy full time.

Kelvin has been involved as the lead designer in over 750 projects and Kelvin brings his passion for AV and extensive experience in Design, Sales, Project Management, System Integration and Implementation to the development and delivery of the training programs that T2 are providing in conjunction with Bangalore Academy of Technology and Skills.

Experience Technology